Division of Polymer Chemistry Call for Papers
240th ACS National Meeting
Boston, Mass
August 22-26, 2010

Abstract and Preprint Deadline: March 22, 2009

Only 20 days left until the submission deadline for contributed papers.

The Division of Polymer Chemistry has an exciting program scheduled for the Boston Meeting. I am encouraging you to submit a paper for the General Papers symposia. Slots are available for either the oral or poster sessions. Topics open in Polymer Synthesis and Polymer Characterization.

General Topics in the Design and Synthesis of Polymers

General Topics in the Characterization of Polymers

If you are considering submitting a poster I would like to point out the Division of Polymer Chemistry new poster format – poster sessions are now scheduled simultaneously with the oral session at the same location with ample breaks for oral participants to visit the poster room. This new format has proven a great success at our last 2 meetings and has fostered additional participation and interaction.

2010 Fall Meeting

All paper submitted to the Division of Polymer Chemistry require a Preprint and have to be submitted through the ACS submission site. For instruction visit the ACS or Division of Polymer Chemistry web sites.

I am looking forward to your submission. Thank you
